However, the participant shall not be entitled to his preferred hall placement.

In exceptional circumstances, the organizer reserves the right to change the program at short notice while maintaining the overall character of the event. The lecturers shall be solely responsible for the content of their lectures. The organizer shall not be liable.

9. Privacy
Information concerning privacy shall be made available to the participant in a separate policy. The organizer points out explicitly that the privacy policy is available at www.aachen-colloquium.com/privacy and www.aachener-kolloquium.de/datenschutz.

10. Cancellation by the Organizer
The organizer reserves the right to cancel the event for important reasons, for example force majeure events or other circumstances outside the organizer’s control. In this case, the organizer agrees to notify the participants about the cancellation of the event via email and to refund those participant fees, which have already been paid, to the full amount. A refund of participant fees in case of a cancellation of the event due to force majeure reasons is excluded. Futile participant expenses shall only be reimbursed if the organizer is clearly at fault for the cancellation of the event. Furthermore, the organizer reserves the right to cancel a lecture or a session without substitution.
in case of a speaker’s absence due to illness. Refunds for individual lectures or sessions shall not be possible.

11. Adaptation of the event format
If the organizer decides to hold the event as a digital event in connection with the coronavirus pandemic and associated official or statutory bans or restrictions, or also on the basis of recommendations by the Robert Koch Institute (RKI), the European Center for Disease Prevention (ECDC) or the World Health Organization (WHO) to protect the health of employees, participants, exhibitors or other event participants, it shall inform the participant of this without delay and at the same time notify him/her of the new scope of services and the adjusted participation fee. In this case, the participant shall have a special right of termination, which he/she must exercise within 14 days of receipt of the notification from the organizer or, if less than 14 days remain from the notification from the organizer until the start of the event, until the start of the event. If the participant does not exercise the special right of termination in text form (e.g. e-mail, letter, fax) in due time, the contractual relationship shall continue to exist with the changed conditions. If the participant has already paid his/her participation fee, the organizer will refund any difference to the adjusted participation fee. The organizer is also entitled to the above right if the legal or official requirements in connection with the coronavirus pandemic, which are linked to the implementation of the event, involve disproportionate effort or are incompatible with the character of the event. In this case, the above shall apply. The participant shall not be entitled to any claims for expenses or damages as a result of exercising his special right of termination or holding the event as a digital event instead of a face-to-face event.

12. Cancellation by the Participant
The cancellation of a registration must be made in writing. For duly cancellations by September 1st of the event year according to post mark or receipt of the email, an administrative charge of € 70,- plus applicable VAT shall be charged. Participant fees, which have already been paid, shall be reimbursed minus the administrative charge if a cancellation is received by this date. Following a cancellation by this date, the participant shall no longer be entitled to the receipt of the proceedings.

After the deadline the participant fee must be paid in full amount according to invoice. This shall apply both to cancellations after September 1st of the event year and to unannounced non-participation. In this case the proceedings can be sent to the participant by mail on request as soon as the participant fee has been received in full by the organizer.

In case a participant is prevented from participation due to illness and wants to rescind from the contract due to this reason, the participant shall submit a medical certificate to the organizer immediately, stating the absence due to illness for the entire duration of the event. In this case, the administrative charge shall become void and fees, which have already been paid, shall be reimbursed in full. In the event of a cancellation due to illness, the entitlement to receipt the proceedings shall become void.

Participants shall not be entitled to reduction, retention or offset, unless these entitlements are undisputed and legally proven in writing.

If a participant is unable to travel due to the coronavirus pandemic and the associated official or legal prohibitions or restrictions, or due to recommendations of the Robert Koch Institute (RKI), the European Center for Disease Prevention (ECDC) or the World Health Organization (WHO), he/she may cancel his/her participation. In this case, the organizer will refund the participation fee to the participant. Further costs such as hotel and travel expenses will not be reimbursed by the organizer.

13. Rebooking by the Participant
   If they are unable to attend the event, participants shall be entitled to nominate a replacement. This change of participants is free of charge until September 1st of the event year. After this date, every change of a participant is charged with a fee of € 50,- plus VAT. The fee is also charged for participant changes on site. If the replacement participant does not fulfill the same conditions as the original participant, for example if he is not entitled to a discount, which was granted to the original participant, the difference shall be paid immediately. Otherwise, the organizer reserves the right to reject the rebooking and refuse the participation of the replacement participant. In addition, the replacement participant may not already be registered for the event. Changes of participants shall be submitted in writing to the organizer by October 1st of the event year including all personal data. The official registration form must not be used for the notice of change. Changes after October 1st of the event year can only be made personally on site in the conference office.

14. Proceedings
   The proceedings shall only be handed out on site. If the participant is not on site in order to receive these documents, they can be sent to the participant by mail on request after all unpaid invoices have been paid. The organizer reserves the exclusive rights for the proceedings. They must not be reproduced, digitalized, published, distributed, provided for downloading, used for other events or provided to third parties without the explicit written permission of the organizer. Licenses for the in-house distribution can be applied for in writing from the organizer. Beginning in 2012, the proceedings are listed with an ISBN number, which means that they can be stated and cited as a publication subject to stating the full source. The conference proceedings of each year will be sold only after the end of the event.

15. Events for Accompanying Guests
   The events for accompanying guests are available only for accompanying persons, but not for conference participants. The costs of these events are not included in the participant fees, but must be paid separately. In case of a cancellation, the same deadlines and conditions as for the cancellation of a conference participation shall apply (see section 11). However, a cancellation fee shall not apply.

16. Place of Jurisdiction and Applicable Law
   The contractual relationship shall exclusively be subject to German law and exclude any provisions of the international private law. To the extent permissible, Aachen shall be the place of jurisdiction.
